Stirling voters will go to the polls Monday next, December 5th, to elect a Reeve and a Public Utilities Commissioner. Three members of Council have been elected by acclamation leaving one vacancy. Another nomination meeting will be held at a later date to nominate candidates to complete the slate.

Those elected to Council by acclamation are B. Jones, Robt. Philp and James Chambers.

For Reeve James V. Holt, a veteran member of Council, will be opposed by Carl Bateman, a member of Council for the past two years. H. C. Bird, who has been a member of the Public Utilities Commission for a number of years, and Jas. Wright, a former member of Council, are the candidates for the office of Public Utilities Commissioner.

NOMINATIONS MONDAY NIGHT

One of the largest crowds in years attended Nomination proceedings held in the Community Hall on Monday night resulting in three nominations for three Reeveship; nine for Council, two for Public Utilities Commission and three for School trustees.

For Reeve — J. V. Holt, W. J. Morton and Carl Bateman.

For Council — H. R. Tompkins, W. J. Morton, B. Jones, C. Bateman, Jas. Chambers, Robt. Luery, Robt. Philp, Elwood Bateman and K. Ray.

For Public Utilities Commissioner — H. C. Bird and Jas. Wright.

For School Trustees — A. R. Mallory, Edwin Warren and Ralph Jeffs (acclamation).

Following the closing of nominations Clerk F. R. Mallory was chosen as chairman of the meeting and after declaring the members of the School Board re-elected by acclamation, called on Reeve J. V. Holt to address the gathering.

Reeve Holt

After expressing his pleasure at the goodly number in attendance, Reeve Holt stated the Village was in a very healthy condition. There is no relief, no indigent accounts and little or no unemployment in the municipality. Council had experienced a very heavy year's work and much had been accomplished.

Turning to the sewerage system Reeve Holt stated it was working well and it was encouraging to note that a goodly number of the citizens were taking advantage of the facility. He cautioned citizens to have the hook-up made before April next, when the contractor would be relieved of making any needed corrections.

Regarding this year's increase in the tax rate the Reeve stated the 4.1 mill increase in the County Rate, an increase in educational costs and a 3 mill levy for sewerage were chiefly responsible.

Speaking later in the meeting Reeve Holt stated he had a good deal to do with the improvements to Front St. W., and Mill Street and the installation of the sewerage system. The Front Street project is completed and he would like to have the privilege of serving as Reeve another year to see the finalization of the work on Mill Street and the sewerage system.

Councillors

Councillor H. R. Tompkins was the next speaker and outlined the work of the Property Committee, including the purchase of several parcels of land required for the Henry Street bridge and the development road on Mill St.

Chairman of Streets

W. J. Morton, chairman of the Streets Committee, stated the big job for the committee during the past year was to recondition the streets following the laying of the sewers. Front St. W. had been resurfaced and widened with new curbs, new sidewalks and new driveway approaches making it one of the finest streets. All this was accomplished without any outlay by the Village, stated Councillor Morton, who paid tribute to the Department of Highways officials and the contractor for their co-operation and assistance. Everything asked for had been granted if at all possible, stated Mr. Morton. Sev-

Bank of Montreal 143 Annual Report Shows New Records

New records were set by the Bank of Montreal for practically every phase of its 1960 operations, according to the B of M's annual statement for the year ended October 31. The figures were released here this week by Leslie Rawlings, manager of the Stirling Branch.

Commenting on the bank's 143rd year of business, he said total resources reached an all-time high of $3,485 million. Deposits were reported at $3,200 million, including Canadians' personal savings of some $1,655 million. Loans stood at almost exactly the same level as the all-time high of $1,772 million set in 1959.

Strong Liquid Position

Traditionally, the B of M statement shows a strong liquid position, with "quick" assets of $1,771 million representing 54 percent of total liabilities to the public, the manager said. The figure compares with 51.6 percent a year ago.

Earnings for operation of more than 840 offices at home and abroad added up to $31,578,780. But with an income tax bill of $17,352,044 — or 55 percent — the year's net profit was $14,226,736. This was $2,036,676. Of the net profits, some 21,000 B of M shareholders are receiving $2.00 per share, or a total of $12,148,167, or $5,203,877 less than the tax bill.

$2 MILLION To "Rest"

The B of M statement shows transfer of $2 million to the bank's "rest" — or reserve — account, bringing it to a new high of $141,850,000. This, plus paid-up capital of $60,750,000 and undivided profits, brought the total shareholders' equity to $203,750,859.

A sharp increase of more than 18 percent in the statement's valuation of B of M premises — from $47 million in 1959 to more than $55 million was shown in the statement. This reflected completion of the bank's new head-office building in Montreal, as well as the continuing rapid pace of branch extension and modernization in this province and across Canada.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE TO CUSTOMERS OF THE B OF M

What your Dollars did at my Bank in 1960

Leslie Rawlings, Manager
Stirling Branch
Bank of Montreal

About this time of year the Bank of Montreal makes its Annual Report to all its customers — well over two million of them. I would like to make my own condensed report to the customers of my branch of Canada's First Bank.

I think it is a report that you can take some satisfaction in. It concerns the good things which the money you entrusted to us has been doing.

The money you deposited at "MY BANK" went right to work expanding, improving and financing Canadian enterprises — small, medium and large. Because of your deposit dollars, highways were built, jobs were created, farms were modernized, research was financed and education encouraged.

You might say that those dollars of yours aided and abetted our entire Canadian economy. That means a better future for the whole nation... and especially for you as a shareholder in that economy.

Leslie Rawlings

The Facts behind the Figures in the B of M's 143rd Annual Report

DEPOSITS: Amounting to $3,200,419,323, highest in the Bank's history, this money represents the funds of well over two million Canadians. More than half of it is the personal savings of people of every calling. The remainder is money deposited by business firms, community organizations and governments. The bulk of this money is hard at work in the form of loans to people and businesses of all types.

LOANS: Many thousands of loans were made throughout the year to people in all walks of life — to farmers, miners, fishermen, oil men, lumbermen, ranchers; to salaried people; to industrial and business enterprises; to community organizations; and to Provincial and Municipal Governments. Total loans at year-end... $1,772,612,656.

INVESTMENTS: The B of M has $765,509,855 invested in high-grade government bonds and other public securities having a ready market. This money helps to finance government projects for the betterment of the country and the welfare of its citizens. Other securities held include a diversified list of high-quality and short-term industrial issues. Total investments at October 31, 1960... $983,256,199.

Whether you want to save money or borrow it for some useful purpose, you'll find the B of M is a good place to do it. So, if it's about money, see Canada's First Bank first!

A JOB WELL DONE

We feel sure that the citizens of Stirling would like to voice their thanks to the 1960 Stirling Council for the vast improvements made in our Village this past year. Few of us realize the time and effort given so freely by these men. Their work is rewarded by the beautiful new streets and sidewalks, the advantages of sewage and modern facilities, which makes our Village one of which we are all justly proud.

CHRISTMAS TREE COOKIES

The butter in this cookie gives it a crisp texture and rich mellow flavour. The Home Economists of Canada Department of Agriculture say you couldn't find a better recipe for cookies to hang on the Christmas tree.

Christmas Tree Cookies

- 3 cup butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 egg
- 2 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups pastry flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt

Cream butter, add sugar gradually, cream well together. Add egg and flavouring, combine thoroughly. Sift together dry ingredients; add gradually to creamed mixture. Roll out on lightly floured board to about 1/4 inch thickness. Cut into rounds or shapes. Use broad spatula to place cookies on lightly greased cookie sheet. Make a small hole near top edge of cookie before baking. After the cookie is baked and decorated thread a piece of string through hole and hang on tree. Or use Christmas tree ornament hangers. Hook into edge of cookie and pull out slightly to embed in dough. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degs. F.) until light golden around the edges, 6 to 8 minutes. Watch carefully as these cookies brown readily. To decorate see below. Makes about 4 dozen 2-inch cookies.

Trim Tricks

For Christmas Tree Cookies

Decorations may be put on glazed or plain cookies.

To Make Glaze — Add just enough milk to 2 cups of sifted icing sugar to make an icing which is a little thinner than spreading consistency. This makes about 1/2 cup of icing. Divide into three or more portions. Leave one white and add a few drops of food colouring to others.

To Glaze — Use a soft brush or spread icing on cooled cookies. Let dry on a rack.

To Trim with Sugar or "shot"

Candies — For plain or glazed tree, holly or star cookies, brush entire surface with light corn syrup, then dip in coloured sugar or tiny "shot" candies. For borders, brush edges of cookies with syrup, then dip. For fine lines, as ribs on holly leaves, streamers or trees or outlines of bands on bells, or tree balls, draw pattern in glaze with skewer or toothpick, then sprinkle with sugar or "shot." For plain or unglazed cookies, draw pattern with syrup, then sprinkle.

To Attach Candies, Glaze Cherries or Gumdrops — Put small drops of light corn syrup on cookie with toothpick, then sprinkle with sugar or "shot." For plain or unglazed cookies, draw pattern with syrup, then sprinkle.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

THE PARADOX

It has always amazed me the way we take ideas from our enemies.

When Hitler and Mussolini were in power, we were so impressed with their so-called efficiency that we adopted a good many of their schemes. For example, our Canadian broadcasting system was based, to a great extent, on the German system. We have modified it, but the experts who studied the matter were so impressed with the German system that they would have had us adopt it completely had not the Canadian public rebelled.

In a similar way, we are now adopting or have already imported many of the early Russian techniques. And if some of the experts have their way, there will be more and more direction from the top down, and more and more of the nation's revenue going into the hands of governments.

Ironically enough, the Russians have already found some of these techniques to be useless and they are tossing them out and instituting Capitalist methods. They are paying the biggest rewards to the biggest producers, and no longer pay even lip service to the Marxist doctrine of each according to his ability, to Russia they see to it that he profits most who serves best.

It has been demonstrated again and again that profits mean jobs, and yet we harp away on the evils of profit. Can a firm that makes no profit be a good employer? Of course not! But to listen to some of our public oracles, you would think that we'd have Utopia here if we could only force Canadian business to the wall.

Many problems in Canada have arisen from giving up the very principles which were most successful! From a policy of limited government, we have switched over to giving governments more and more power. We pay old age pensions to millionaires, and unemployment insurance to prosperous housewives and others who simply do not need it. We pay higher and higher wages to those who have jobs with the result that more and more Canadians are without jobs at all.

Isn't it time we told the government to get back to the proven practice of rewarding the job-makers, of setting the people free, of urging self-reliance and individual productivity?

Rylstone W.A. Met At Church

There was a good attendance of members and visitors on Thursday afternoon, November 17th, when Mrs. Chester Meiklejohn and Mrs. Laurence Meiklejohn were joint hostesses to the Woman's Association of the Rylstone Church.

Mrs. Wilfred Spencer, President, welcomed the visitors and read the Scripture lesson, Matthew 5: 1-16 and the meditation. Roll call was answered by a Bible verse containing the word "Peace." A Remembrance Day reading was given by Mrs. Spencer. The hymn, "Thou Whose Almighty Word," was sung.

Several readings were given by Mrs. Lindsay Finch, "No Occupation;" Mrs. Thos. H. McKeown, "Tend the Lamps;" Mrs. James Milne, "Perpetual Almanac;" Mrs. Aaron Anderson, "Riddles;" Mrs. Sanford Meiklejohn, "Take Time To Live;" Mrs. Fred McKeown, "Always Faithful."

The hymn, "We Cannot Think of Them As Dead" was sung. Mrs. Ellis Jones conducted an oral contest on "Names of Places in the Bible." The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction and refreshments were served by the hostess and refreshment committee.

Bazaar Held

A small bazaar proved quite popular with needlework, crocheted goods, some baking and jam for sale.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Thos. H. McKeown, Springbrook. Roll call will be a Bible verse from the Christmas Story. The programme committee will be Mrs. Sanford Meiklejohn and Mrs. Fred McKeown. Refreshment committee, Mrs. Will Rutherford and the hostess, sandwiches; Mrs. Ross Dickie and Mrs. Wilfred Spencer, cake.

A bell was presented for a gift to the baby daughter of one of the members. A pair of crocheted booties were selected from the bazaar to be given another new baby in the community.

It was decided to hold the annual Christmas Entertainment and Supper in the church on Friday evening, December 2nd.

Taxes On Gifts A Problem?

Taxes on gifts present a problem to many people today because there are three distinct phases of taxation that must receive related consideration, namely — gift tax, income tax and estate tax. Since at this time of the year people are thinking about their planned program of annual gifts it seems fitting that we should review certain legislation which, if not clearly understood, could create difficulty in future years.

Under Gift Tax legislation, provisions are made for annual and once-in-a-lifetime exemptions on a reasonably generous basis.

Under the Income Tax Act, if a gift made between a husband and wife produces income, either immediately or at a future date (whether from the original gift or from any asset substituted therefor) such income is taxable in the hands of the donor. Likewise, the income earned on a gift to a person under the age of nineteen is taxed in the hands of the donor. Such taxation ceases upon the death of the donor or in the case of gifts made to minors upon their reaching the age of nineteen.

Under the Estate Tax Act a gift is not deemed to have been made unless the donor lives for three years from the date on which the gift was completed. If the donor does not survive this three-year period the gift is included as an asset of his estate, for taxation purposes only, at its value as at the date of death and not as at the date on which the gift was completed. This is a particularly important point. For example, if a gift of a life insurance policy having a face value of $15,000 was made from a husband to his wife, the amount of the gift would be the cash surrender value — say $2,350. Should the husband not survive for three years from the date on which the gift was completed, the face value, namely $15,000, would be included as an asset of his estate for taxation purposes. Similarly, bonds, stocks, real estate, etc., could increase in value because of market conditions. This is a pitfall that may be avoided if the substance of the original gift is cash which the recipient may use to purchase assets from the donor.

We believe that a properly planned programme of gift making, which is an important facet of estate planning, can be of benefit to many individuals. Such a programme, however, should not be instituted without a full and complete understanding of various tax implications and the obtaining of competent advice. —Canada Trust Bulletin.

THE BIBLE TODAY

The past can often provide a word of wisdom for today. John Wesley once said about the Bible, "It must be the invention of either good men or angels, bad men or devils, or of God. It couldn't be the invention of good men or angels for they neither could or would write a book and tell lies all the time they were writing it saying, 'Thus saith the Lord.' It could not be bad men or devils for they would not and could not write a book which commands all duties, forbids all sins and condemns their own soul to a lost eternity. Therefore, we must admit it is from God."

Pasteur, the great scientist said about belief in the Bible, "It is not a question of faith or science, it is a question of the size of the mind. If you have only a little bucket of a mind and get a lot of science into it, the little faith you have may come floating out at the top and be lost, but if you have a good sized bucket, of a mind there will be plenty of room for both science and faith."

One of the announcements of Voltaire, the great sceptic was, "In a hundred years the Bible will be a forgotten book found only in museums." When a hundred years were up, the house in which Voltaire made his prediction was occupied by the Geneva Bible Society, one of twenty-three Bible Societies jointly distributing 27,000,000 volumes of Scripture per year.

of modern society have been estimated to have increased 20 times since the year 1900. Today most of our occupation is at distances of 13 to 16 inches from our eyes, which, day in and day out, face a tremendous VISUAL work-load... not intended by nature, in fact. "But I can't spend my telephone money!"

This is a true story.

One of our telephone people recently passed a neighbourhood lunch counter where some children were about to order a second round of milk shakes and soft drinks. One little boy, called Jimmy, found he only had one dime left. He announced firmly:

"I can't spend my telephone money!"

Obviously, Jimmy's parents had convinced him that he'd never have to worry — nor would they — about being late or getting lost if he always kept a dime for a phone call: there's always a telephone nearby!

So Jimmy's telephone dime buys his mother peace of mind... it seems like such a good idea that children know how to reach home by phone.

DO YOU KNOW YOUR FEED TERMS

See if you can match up the following words with the meaning that Ontario Department of Agriculture livestock experts have for them. All of these words are quite commonplace in today's farming. Knowing what they mean might enable you to do a better job.

Crude Fibre
Cellulose
Total Digestible Nutrients or T.D.N.
Concentrates
Digestible Crude Protein
Total Crude Protein
A: a carbohydrate that is the main part of the cell wall of plants. It makes up a part of crude fibre. Micro-organisms in the rumen of cattle and sheep break it down to simple compounds.
B: feedstuffs high in energy or total digestible nutrients and low in fibre content.
C: that part of a feed which can be digested and absorbed by the animal.
D: the sum of the digestible organic nutrients — protein, fibre, nitrogen-free extract and fat. The figure for fat is multiplied by 2.25 because it has 2.25 times the energy of protein or carbohydrates.
E: the relatively insoluble parts of the feed. These include lignin and some carbohydrates, cellulose and hemicelluloses.
F: includes all feed compounds containing nitrogen. It includes non-protein nitrogenous compounds as well as "true-proteins".
Answers: Crude Fibre, A; Cellulose, A; Total Digestible Nutrients, C; Concentrates, B; Digestible Crude Protein, C; Total Crude Protein, F.

STUDY CORN SILAGE NOW, THEN PLAN FOR NEXT YEAR

"When you're feeding corn silage this winter look closely at the kernels, moldiness, color, and odour," suggests Dr. Stan Young, O.A.C. field crops worker. "What you see should influence next year's corn plans." Good corn silage has a lot of kernels in it, says Dr. Young. A few kernels of this kind will pass through your cattle but this is nothing to worry about — it just indicates that your silage was made right.

"It means your corn was mature when harvested. It means you got at least 90 percent of the dry matter you could have got from the field." His reasoning: A cow eating 30 pounds of well-cared silage eats 3 pounds of kernels (about 6,000 kernels). If you count the number that passed through with the manure you can see it's only a very small part of that 3 pounds.

Another thing to look for is amount of dent in the kernels. Good silage contains kernels that are fully dentified and not soft or mushy.

Moldy corn silage indicates that the silage wasn't compacted enough after ensiling, says Young.

"Often this means that the corn was left to freeze before ensiling; or maybe the corn wasn't chopped finely enough. If your corn frosted before you filled your silo this year, use an earlier hybrid next year."

The best corn silage is bright in color. Dark soggy-looking corn silage means it was too wet when it was ensiled. A disagreeable odor is another indication that corn was ensiled when too wet. His suggestion: start planting earlier or use an earlier hybrid next year.

CANADA TO HAVE AN AGRICULTURAL HALL OF FAME

A project which shows promise of becoming a national agricultural institution came into being recently. For several months a small committee, appointed at the last annual meeting of the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, has been working diligently in drafting a plan for giving recognition to persons who have made an outstanding contribution to agriculture, Canada's basic industry. The plan envisaged by this committee was revealed by its chairman, W. P. Watson, to a gathering of agriculturalists from all parts of Canada at a meeting held during the Royal and was unanimously approved by those in attendance.

Briefly the plan involves the formation of an organization to be known as the Canadian Agricultural Hall of Fame Association, memberships in which will be open to individuals and organizations engaged in or interested in agriculture. The affairs of the association will be managed by a Board of twelve Directors, three of whom must be residents of the Provinces west of Ontario, three from east of Ontario and the other six from any part of Canada.

This part of the plan was completed on November 16th when the following persons were elected to the directorate: from the West, Donald C. Matthews, Alberta; E. C. Beveridge, Saskatchewan; and Joe Murray, Manitoba; from the East, Rene Trepanier and Douglas Ness, from Quebec, and C. B. Sherwood, from New Brunswick. The other six directors, all residents of Ontario, are J. A. Carroll, Geo. M. Clemons, Harold R. White, Prof. G. E. Rathby, Dr. H. H. Hannam and W. P. Watson. At the directors meeting which followed the annual meeting, W. P. Watson and Prof. Rathby were elected president and vice-president respectively and C. S. McKee, manager of the Royal, was appointed secretary-treasurer.

The first responsibility of the directors is to carry out the objects of the association by establishing a portrait gallery worthy of the name "Agricultural Hall of Fame," and to devise a plan for selecting the persons who are to be honoured by having their portraits hung there. Tentative agreement has been reached on both items. It is the unanimous opinion of the directors that the gallery should be located in the premises occupied by the Royal; also that persons who made an outstanding contribution but who are no longer alive should be recognized first. Accordingly the prospects of obtaining suitable quarters at the Royal are being investigated and each national agricultural association affiliated with the Royal is being invited to name the person, now deceased, who during his lifetime made the greatest contribution to his organization in particular and agriculture in general, with a view to having his portrait hung in the gallery. It is hoped that the majority of associations will accept that invitation thus making possible the hanging of a number of portraits at next year's Royal.

Timely Tips

Be careful when picking the fields to spread with manure, advises C. H. Kingsbury, Field Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture. He says manure will do its best job on fields you intend to plant to corn and on old sod that will be plowed down in 1961 or 1962. This is especially important if your spreader applies 10 to 12 tons of manure per acre — a rate so high it might smother new seedlings or winter wheat. Older forages can better stand rates greater than 6 tons per acre.

Feeding corn to cattle this winter? O.A.C. Animal Husbandry professor, Tom Burgess, says cattle on full-feed will eat from 1½ to 2 pounds of corn per 100 pounds of live weight per day. Feed 1 pound of hay or 3 pounds of silage per hundred pounds with a full feed of corn. Depending on your hay or silage, feed 1 to 2 pounds of high-protein supplement to all animals. Don't forget about free-access to minerals and salt.

Refuel when the motor is cool and keep the chain saw away from the cutting area when refueling; never ask someone else to hold the saw while you're starting the motor; always check the tree for rotten branches; and the direction of lean before cutting; look for quick exits before cutting; and keep bystanders well out of the way.

Keep in mind these chain saw safety tips from Hal Wright, Ontario Department of Agriculture, when you're working in the bush this winter. In 1959, almost 80 farm people suffered chain saw accidents.

Cooking Comments

When it comes to meat, thrifty buyers think of the price in relation to the cost per serving rather than per pound. The amount of gristle and fat affects the number of servings, the Ontario Department of Agriculture reminds consumers.

Plan menus for a day or, even better, for a week at a time, suggests the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Then you can be sure meals are balanced and include all the foods recommended for daily use for good health.

In addition to being such a rich source of Vitamin C, turnips store well for winter use.

To be at its best, fresh milk needs to be kept clean, cold, covered and away from direct light.

TODAY — AND 15 YEARS AGO

J. A. MORRIS
Editor, Prescott Journal
writes from EUROPE AND
THE UNITED KINGDOM

CAEN, Normandy — This week we rolled history back 16 years. Leaving Paris after an all-too-brief holiday, we headed for Caen and the invasion coast.

At Caen we looked up the office du Tourisme where we received information we had been promised for our tour of the battlefields. The pert little secretary (whose parents-in-law live in Montreal) not only advised us about hotel accommodation but got into our Envoys with us and guided us to the hotel that was to be our headquarters for the next four days.

We could scarcely believe our eyes as we drove into the centre of Caen. On our last visit we followed armored bulldozers clearing streets of great heaps of rubble. That was during "Operation Charnwood" and 450 Lancaster bombers had started off the event the night before.

Today, beautiful wide streets run between modern stores, office buildings and apartments — centred by the 14th century churches almost completely repaired. Even the ancient Chateau begun by William the Conqueror in the 11th century, is being restored, with its walls, to its former style. But the finest of the new buildings is the university, overlooking the city from the heights beyond the Chateau. Here, we thought, is the vision reaching out to a hopeful future.

Our tour of the beaches started at Arromanches, where a permanent museum perpetuates the success of "Operation Mulberry" — the artificial port which was to serve our invading forces until Antwerp was cleared in November. Six of us, the only English-speaking members of our particular tour, were given special treatment by the staff. We had a special showing of the Diorama (the invasion in 3-D) and a film on the building of the port, in English. Uniforms and badges of all the invasion troops are on display, with weapons and ammunition, and photographs of D-Day on the beaches. Needless to say, the youngsters "ate up" the displays of weapons and ammunition and grenades. And they had a wonderful time of make-believe among the huge cement caissons that still remain on the sands at low tide, grim reminders of the efficiency of that port which was to prove the undoing of the German Army of the West.

We toured each of the beaches — Bernières-sur-mer, Courseulles-sur-Mer and St. Aubin-sur-Mer, where the Canadians swarmed ashore on June 6th, 1944. At each of these beaches the French have placed monuments in grateful memory of their liberation. Even today, with the beaches lined with "cabins" of holiday-makers, one can distinguish landmarks glimpsed in those first mad days.

Turning inland we criss-crossed through many of the little country roads where every hedge and wall was an obstacle. Today the scene was a peaceful one, with farmers and their families harvesting the wheat from fields which were overrun a scant 16 years ago.

We paused awhile at the beautiful kept cemeteries at Bayeux and Beny-Sur-Mer (Riviers) where lie 2,225 Canadian sailors, soldiers and airmen. Memory was refreshed in the villages of Fontaine Henri, Baily, Colomby-sur-Thaon, Anguerny, Bouanville, Vissons-les-Buissons, Cambes, St. Contest — and many many others etched so very deeply in Canada's war record as her men held on the "hinge" of Caen.

Next week we'll tell of Carpiquet, the chateau at Rots and Falaise.

The Good Driver

Driving with only one headlight showing is illegal, and dangerous. But it is still done. The Ontario Safety League suggests to drivers who take this selfish risk, they should at least flash on their high beams momentarily when approaching oncoming traffic (if both lamps are working on high beam) to indicate the width of the vehicle, and which "eye" is out.

The Ontario Safety League quotes this from the U.S. publication, "Traffic Safety": "An irate London bus driver, complaining about the newly instituted parking ticket he received, had this to say, 'I accepted American hot dogs. I accepted American ice tea. But this, this I most certainly do not accept.'"

The Ontario Safety League quotes the case of an elderly driver in St. Petersburg, Fla. who was checked for erratic driving. It was found that his legs were weak, and he needed a walker frame to hobble from his home to the garage. When he needed to brake the car, he had to grab his right trouser leg and pull his foot off the accelerator and on to the brake.

The National Safety Council has made a survey of 5,000 drivers who have earned safe driving awards, to get a composite picture of the safe professional driver. Here is his "profile," reports the Ontario Safety League:

He is approximately 57 years old, is married and has two children. He has been driving professionally for 32 years and has worked for the same employer for 30 years. He has completed at least two years of high school, and probably has no military service (he was too young for World War I, and too old for World War II).

He has compiled the remarkable record of never having a single traffic violation in his professional or personal driving career. Last year he drove 18,000 on-the-job miles and added another 8,000 miles in personal driving.

Less than 20 percent of his professional driving is done at night, while almost a third of all his personal motoring is done after dark. He probably drives a truck, and has won an accident-free award for at least 23 of his 32 years on the job.

Keep clear of bad-mannered neighbours, to avoid possible unpleasantness. And keep clear of mad-mannered drivers, to avoid possible disaster, recommends the Ont. Safety League.

"Young man," said the angry father from the head of the stairs, "didn't I hear the clock strike four when you brought my daughter home?"

"You did," admitted the boy. "It was going to strike eleven but I grabbed it and held the gong so it would not disturb you."

"Dawgone! Why didn't I think of that in my day!" muttered the father as he went back to bed.

JENSEN — In loving memory of a dear son and grandson, Eric William Jensen, who passed away on December 10th, 1954.

Lonesome here without you dear,
We miss you more each day;
Somehow life has not been the same
Since you were called away.
Our hearts still ache with sadness,
Our eyes shed many a tear,
God alone knows how much we miss you
As this ends our sixth sad year.
— Lovingly remembered by Mother and Daddy and Grandparents. 42-1p

MORRISON — In memory of John Morrison, who passed away December 11th, 1956.

Your presence seems so near,
We often wonder if you feel
The way that we do here.
But you are not forgotten Dad
Nor ever shall you be
As long as life and memory lasts
We shall remember thee.
— Ever remembered by the family. 42-1

Ontario Diocesan W.A. Board Meeting

On November 28th the monthly meeting of the Ontario Diocesan Women's Auxiliary was held in St. John's Church, Kingston, beginning with the service of Holy Communion at 11:00 a.m. The Celebrant was the Rector, Canon Minto Swan, assisted by the Rev. A. C. McCullum.

Canon Swan was the speaker and spoke on the life of St. Andrew and of his bringing his brother to Jesus, and enlarged on the words of Jesus to his disciples.

After the service the members adjourned to the Parish Hall for a box luncheon.

The afternoon session opened at 2:00 p.m. with the President, Mrs. W. F. H. Mitchell presiding. A hymn and the National Anthem were sung and the opening prayers were said by Canon Swan.

Mrs. D. C. Hunt introduced the speakers, the Rev. John MacDougall and Miss Joy Vernon, both from Trinity Church East, Toronto.

Speaking about their work in that downtown parish, they told of the many aspects of the work and the conditions under which they have to meet the various situations. Colored slides were shown and proved most interesting, showing what a great amount of Christian social service is being accomplished in this area.

Mrs. S. Boyd expressed the thanks of the meeting to the speakers.

Archdeacon D. C. Hunt closed the meeting with the benediction. Refreshments were served by the members of St. John's W.A. and a social hour enjoyed.

Eggleton Mission Band

The November meeting of Eggleton Mission Band was held at the school with 26 children and three adults in attendance.

At the front the worship centre had been arranged with a map of the world forming the background and an open Bible on the table.

The President, Dianne Prest, presided over the programme prepared by Ivan Reide and Lloyd Clancy. The Scripture Lesson from Ephesians

6: 13-18, was read by Dianne Prest, followed by a poem read by Lois Danford.

Albert Jones gathered the offering which was dedicated with a prayer, read by Kenneth Danford.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at the Church during the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Reide gave an interesting reading, "A Tale from Norway House." The Mission Band Leader, Mrs. Maurice Clancy, had the children point out Korea on the map of the world. Following this, she sang "Silent Night" in the Korean language. She also presented the first chapter, "The Long Rope," from the new study book, "Adventures with the Bible." This chapter told the story of how a boy, Moon Pyung Chan worked hard at weaving a long rope from rice straw so he could get a Bible of his own.

Mrs. Clancy showed several pictures of Korea, after which the children sang the Missionary Carol found in their World Friends paper. The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Fitchett.

The lunch conveners, Sheila Clarke, Lois Danford and Wayne McMullen served cookies, marshmallows and homemade fudge.

One doesn't expect to be made war upon by a nation whose embassy takes time out to tell the people of the host country how to make Pepernoten; and one is bound to feel a friendly glow towards a people whose food — if this recipe is a fair sample — is so downright tasty!

GOOD PROPAGANDA

I suppose the embassies of all nations try to sell their country and its good intentions to us; but for my money, the best job of all is done by the Netherlands Embassy in Ottawa.

About once a month they mail out a mimeographed booklet called "Feminine Vignettes," prepared by Justine Matthes, and it makes wonderful reading. Political thoughts are seldom inserted at all; but one winds up with the idea that Dutch folk are fun-loving, friendly, darn fine cooks, orderly but not too easily pushed around. Since I began reading these releases a few months ago, I've developed a great yen to visit the Netherlands, particularly around this time of year when St. Nicolaas comes to Amsterdam, traffic is completely snarled up and the people set about having a thoroughly good time.

I am not likely to get to Amsterdam this winter, but nevertheless I shall enjoy some Dutch food, because Justine Matthes thoughtfully included a recipe for Pepernoten (Peppernuts to you). If you would care to try them for yourselves, here's a copy:

- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1 1/2 cups self rising flour
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 2 tbsp. water
- 1 egg yolk
- 1 tsp. each of cinnamon, nutmeg, powdered cloves
- Some anise seeds
- A pinch of salt

Knead all ingredients into a soft ball. Butter two baking sheets. Form about ninety balls the size of marbles. Divide them over the sheets so that they are placed at equal distances from one another. Flatten each ball slightly. Bake about 20 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees), or until done.

Then hide them — or the youngsters will have them eaten up before you've a chance to taste them for yourself.

As I said, this is the best kind of FALAISE, Normandy — Coming back to this historic land of William the Conqueror, we wondered if we would be able to locate any of the places we had "visited" in our tour of 16 years ago. Armed with the maps we used in those days, and our war diary, we realized that map-reading from behind the wheel of our Envoy wasn't as easy as it was away-back-when we didn't have to worry about the driving chore. But we managed to find several spots — minus the foxholes and shelters, of course.

On Sunday morning we drove west from Caen along the road to Bayeux — which we had last travelled in the opposite direction. We turned off at Rots and visited the old Chateau hidden in the woods. As we started out the winding drive, we met M. J. Beaujour Bourget, owner of the chateau and its lands, who insisted we return to look over more closely the old place on land deeded by William the Conqueror. Madame Bourget and their son and daughter met us and welcomed our family group and we spent a delightful hour in the richly furnished old building chatting over those eventful days. The Bourgets were able to return to their home fairly early in the war (they had been ousted by the German Army) as the Chateau was liberated the first day by the Canadians. Our "Canada" sign on our front licence plate and our "Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association" plate were our passports to welcome wherever we went. Over a glass of wine and some cakes, we reviewed our experiences and said "au revoir" to a delightful family.

We swung up the Bretteville l'Orgueilleuse (Barrelful of orange juice) and la Villeneuve, Norry-en-Bessin, and back through Carpiquet and its famous airfield. Out over the beautiful new bridge over the Orne, we drove through Fauberg de Vaucelles along the road to Falaise.

How different on this beautiful Sunday afternoon! As we stopped for a picnic lunch as warm of bicycle racers and spectators went by, and cars streamed along the highway.

Sign posts read like an operation order — Ifs, Cormelles, Bras, Hubert, Folle, Bourgeois, Verrieres, Tilly-la-Campagne . . . near Roquancourt we stopped to look again at a spot in the woods by the railway tracks where a tragic error brought tons of bombs onto the Canadian and Polish divisions . . . then we came upon the beautifully-maintained cemetery of Bretteville-sur-Laize, and one of those experiences only war can breed.

We met two couples from the Maritimes, now stationed at Antwerp, looking up the graves of buddies. We mentioned an experience at Cormelles, and how Miles Casselman from our hometown of Chesterville had pulled up into a 4th LAA shelter. Tufts had been in that very battery, recalled the day and experience, and recalled the terrible damage suffered by the British AGRA in the valley beside us.

Along the Falaise Road we stopped to pay a moment of respect at the Polish Military Cemetery, a beautifully kept memorial with hundreds of crosses, row upon row. But, we wondered, what of the connection between this memorial and a pillaged homeland still in bondage?

Falaise — the northern jaw of the trap where Montgomery crushed Rommel's 7th Army — is now a modern little city, rebuilt with beautiful new homes and stores. Overlooking the countryside which saw such terrible carnage in August, 1944, stand the ruins of William the Conqueror's great citadel. In the square before the Chateau a great equestrian statue commemorates his reign, with his nine Dukes of Normandy about him . . . the faithful companions at the Battle of Hastings in 1066. Nearby stands the 13th century church being restored to its former state, and still regularly used by worshippers — keeping watch on a countryside steeped in history and blood — blood of liberators whose ancestors William once conquered.

Of this, is history made.

The Wellman's Women's Institute recently held a pot luck supper and euchre at the Orange Hall at Wellman's. Mrs. Gerald Russell, Mrs. Clifford Clancy and Mrs. John Carlisle were in charge of the events of the evening.

The gathering took the form of a hard time party, with some fairly hard-up attires being worn, some of a modern style and some of the older designs.

At seven o'clock everyone sat down to a delicious supper. There was every variety of good things to eat.

Following supper there was a parade of the costumes. Mrs. Carl Clancy and Mrs. Kenneth Tompkins were awarded the ladies' prizes. Mr. Gerald Clancy the gents' and Miss Shirley Hiltz, Mr. Jos. Woodcock and little Miss Valerie Clancy won the children's prizes.

Euchre followed with Mrs. Robert Wallace winning the ladies' high, Mrs. M. Wrightman, ladies' low; A. Aikens, gents' high and John Carlisle, gents' low.

This brought the events of the evening to a close with everyone reporting a very enjoyable time.

Raises Baby Beef

(Ontario Intelligencer)

Seventy-year-old Leonard Prest, of Holloway, has been raising baby beef cattle for city consumption for the past 25 years.

But Mr. Prest is a specialist. His prize production is baby beef.

Like any other specialist he has his own modus operandi.

He believes in a slightly supplemented producer-to-consumer method. He says it pays.

Seven months ago, April to be exact, he took a Shorthorn steer calf, put it in a stable with its mother and said, "Go to it, son, it's all yours." Occasionally he fed it whole oats and a little hay as a chaser. The calf lived and thrived on the "producer-to-consumer" milk method. It never left the stable.

The other day he brought the "calf" to the city and his favourite butcher. Its live weight was 800 pounds.

Dressed, it tipped the scales at 478 pounds.

A veteran cattleman of the city said the "calf" would be a distinct credit to any winter fair.

Mr. Jack Clarke of Clark & Miles, said it was the best baby beef carcass he has seen in his many years in the butcher business.

The Christmas worship service was presented by singing carols and telling their story. Ten children gave readings, telling of indebtedness to many races, denominations and people for their beautiful carols. Following the worship service Ralph Dunham read the story of the "Christmas Legend." Carol Seeley read a poem, "The True Meaning of Christmas." The meeting closed with prayer.

THE BIBLE TODAY

The Rev. Maynard Booth, Bible Society Secretary in the Rhodesias and Nyasaland recently wrote, "Bemba is one of the many languages of Northern Rhodesia and, not long ago the translation of the whole Bible was completed. It was with great joy, therefore, that I anticipated announcing the early arrival of this Bible. Early one morning I was invited to speak to a group of evangelists gathered for a refresher course. It was still so dark that I could not distinguish the faces of those before me. With a flourish I announced that very soon the complete Bible would be in their hands. Instead of the spontaneous burst of loud acclaim which I had expected there was a great silence, which I could not understand. I had expected this great news to be received with loud exclamations of joy and much clapping of hands. I learned however, that there are certain things which can only be received with reverential silence. After the meeting the evangelists came to me, saying, "we never thought we would live to see the day when we would have the complete word of God in our own language. Now we can go to our people, completely equipped to tell the story of His Wondrous love."

This was no light moment in the lives of these people. As the light grew in that little schoolroom I could see the tears of joy in their eyes."

The Good Driver

Traffic safety work, like other areas of human endeavour, is seldom a matter of clear cut blacks-and-whites. Every aspect of safety engineering, enforcement or education has its critics, as well as its advocates. There is no unanimity on what is effective. Often, there is lack of agreement on what is desirable. For instance: high school driver education is generally admitted to be effective in reducing accidents, and saving lives, but there is wide disagreement as to whether or not it is desirable.

Another disputed activity is the establishment of car "clubs" (usually for teen-aged youths) for hot-rodding and drag-racing. Supporters of these clubs often include the police, says the Ontario Safety League. They say that supervised racing allows youths to "let off steam" that might otherwise boil out on the public highway. And it gives them an element of discipline, and sometimes develops a good feeling of team spirit.

However, the U.S. National Safety Council firmly takes a contrary view. A recent policy statement says:

"The National Safety Council opposes speed contests. Since speed violations are so often involved in traffic accidents, the NSC cannot condone speeding even in the name of competition."

The Council feels that public interest would be better served if the energy and enthusiasm now devoted to drag racing were channeled into more constructive activities. Economy runs, road-race, driver clinics and leadership in traffic safety programs are examples of desirable outlets for interest in automobiles and driver ability.

Although clubs known by the general term "hot rod" often engage in many worthwhile activities it is apparent that the chief purpose of such organizations is promotion of racing events.

The National Safety Council therefore recommends that traffic authorities and safety organizations refrain from endorsing, supporting, or participating in speed events."

Cooking Comments

Cabbage is low in cost and high in food value, according to the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Try cabbage wedges with cheese sauce as a main dish for supper or lunch.

Boning and rolling of meat for freezing has many advantages. It conserves space in the locker and there is less dehydration and oxidation because tight packaging is possible.

Almost all cuts of lamb are tender and adapted to dry heat methods of cooking. For minimum shrinkage and maximum flavor, cook lamb at a low temperature.

Not all flours are the same. They are milled from different types of wheat for different types of baking. Cake and pastry flours are much better than other kinds for cake-making.

Use only fresh vegetables and fruits for salads, advises the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Wash them carefully and soak greens in cold water for a short time to crisp them, if necessary. Dry on a towel or by draining.

Ontarians move an average of two millions miles per hour over the provincial highways, says the Ontario Safety League.

Presentation of 4-H Club Awards Witnessed By Capacity Audience

Glen Warlow, Director of Publications, Guest Speaker — Farm Safety Exhibit

Stirling Theatre was filled to capacity with Hastings County 4-H Club members and their parents and friends for the 10th Annual Awards Night on Thursday last. Ross Moorcroft, President of the County Club Leaders' Association, acted as chairman and Ronald Heath presided at the piano for the programme.

Guest Speaker

Introduced by Wesley Farrell, Mr. Glen Warlow, Director of Publications, Ontario Department of Agriculture, complimented the award winners for reaching the top after many hours of time and effort giving justifiable pride to their parents. But it is only the beginning, said the speaker, who urged them to continue to work hard, think hard and try to excel among others. The rewards come to those who apply themselves. Get all the education you can so you develop sound character, a disciplined mind and an elevated spirit. These are the characteristics of an educated person.

Education has a dollars and cents value, continued Mr. Warlow, who mentioned the short courses available to farm boys and girls at Guelph and Kemptville. No student need do without education at O.A.C. Guelph because of lack of money, stated the speaker. The better farmer knows more and knows where to get more. This is only the beginning — don't stop now.

Doug Detlor expressed thanks to the speaker and presented him with a 10-pound cheese from Harold Cheese Co. as a memento of his visit to Stirling.

Miss Elsie Martin led in a singing after which the presentations took place. Other contributing to the programme were Miss Sondra Chambers with baton twirling and musical selections by Ronald Heath.

Top Boy and Girl

Robert Sager and his sister Elizabeth, of Madoc, were the top Club boy and girl in the County during 1960. The former received a $15.00 cheque from the Victoria & Grey Trust Co. and the Bank of Commerce Bulova Watch and the latter the Bank of Commerce silver tray.

313 Participate

A report by County Agricultural Representative Sidney MacDonald, showed that 313 juniors took part in 4-H agricultural work during the year. Of the 22 clubs, eight showed 100 per cent completion, with 289 of the total county membership completing their projects.

It was noted there had been a very favorable increase in both the numbers of members and in the percentage of completions. This, it was stated, indicated that the juniors were realizing the importance of completing the jobs which they undertake.

Home economist Miss Julia Lane commented on the county homemaking club work during the year, noting that achievement days for the girls were scheduled for early next year at Madoc and Stirling.

316 Girls Take Part

During the year 316 girls took part in club work with 292 completing their projects.

Hastings county juniors during the year competed in judging competitions at the Canadian National Exhibition; at provincial and inter-club competitions at Guelph, and also were active at the Ottawa Winter Fair where they took part in judging and showed livestock and farm produce.

In the county competition Paul McKeown was the outstanding 4-H Swine Club member and won the Hastings County Hog Producers' tray. Ronald Heath, high member in county calf clubs, won the Hastings County Holstein Breeders' award. The Holstein breeders give $10.00 to each club for showmanship.

During the presentation programme two county juniors, Ronald Heath and Joe Hagerman presented a safety demonstration illustrating what can

Fire Destroys Piggery, Straw, Hay

Fire destroyed two piggeries, approximately eleven tons of straw and four tons of hay at the farm of Omer Desrocher, 2nd Concession of Rawdon, east of the Village, on Saturday afternoon. Only the united efforts of the neighbours saved the main barn from being a victim of the flames.

The blaze, which is thought to have been caused by combustion, was first noticed in a piggery about 4.00 p.m. The alarm was given and the neighbours gathered quickly and formed a bucket brigade to fight the flames. Finally a bulldozer owned by H. E. Cooke, of Stirling, was procured and a large straw stack just north of the main barn was pushed away from the building.

Fire Chief R. E. Fox, of Stirling, directed operations during the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Desrocher and several of their family were in town when the fire was discovered.

Appointed To School Board

James Johnston, Harold R.R. 1, was reappointed as the Hastings County representative on the Stirling-Rawdon District High School Board at the final session of the County Council last week. Mr. Johnston has represented the County on the local Board since its inception.

Stirling W.I. Visit Home For Aged, Belleville

On the afternoon of November 30th, the ladies of Stirling Women's Institute carried out their plans to visit the Home for the Aged, on Trent Rd., Belleville.

A good representation of W. I. members enjoyed this Christmas party, with a programme of readings, music and Christmas carol singing.

The residents seemed to be greatly amused with the afternoon's program and treat. Several of the W.I. members visited others who were unable to enjoy the program.

The joy of giving, little as it may seem, gives us a glimpse of the true Christmas Holy gift giving with the love for others in one's heart. Sharing is the spirit where all receive benefit.

If I have shared some load and made it lighter,

Brought gratitude into a weary face Or anywhere made life's dark path-way brighter,

Enriched with comradeship a lonely place,

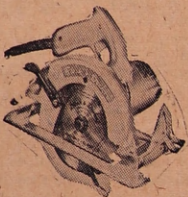

Then I have lived today.

Since 1949 average weekly earnings in Canadian manufacturing have increased by one-third in terms of constant dollars.

A committee was appointed to purchase a set of dishes. Donations were made to Care, Five Oaks and to the Church Hall.

Mrs. Milford Wrightman tendered the retiring president a vote of appreciation.

The programme and lunch conveners were Mrs. William McAdam, Mrs. Clarence Scott and Mrs. Marguerite McMullen.

Mrs. McAdam conducted the Christmas devotional, assisted by Mrs. E. Summers, Mrs. G. Hubble, Mrs. C. Scott and Mrs. J. Holmes. The carols included "Silent Night."

Mrs. Will Jeffs provided march music for the gift exchange. The guests were seated at a long table covered with a Christmas cloth and after singing grace a light luncheon was served and a social half hour enjoyed.

Mrs. Geo. Heasman Hostess To River Valley W.I.

On December 1st, Mrs. George Heasman was hostess for the Christmas meeting of River Valley Women's Institute.

The home was decorated with evergreens, pine cones, wreaths and special Christmas ornaments. There were 22 members, six visitors and 13 children, in attendance.

Mrs. Roy Tucker, president, was in charge of the meeting. She opened with "The Institute Ode" and the Mary Stewart collect in unison. Mrs. Phillip Conley officiated at the piano.

The roll call was centred on the thought, "A Christmas I'll Always Remember." Many different versions were given.

Various Reports

Mrs. George Heasman gave her report and presented a full financial picture. The proceeds of the pie social and three euchre parties in November were $62.50. These four evenings were convened by members of the group of agriculture and Candian Industries and thanks were extended to them. The president also gave a resume of those who had donated prizes.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave a report of the morning sessions on October 11th, at the Club Canara. The two speakers were Mrs. L. G. Tymburner of Port Colborne, F.W.L.O. president and the Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Codrington.

Mrs. Roy Bush custodian of the "Pennies for Friendship Jar," sent a message which was read and the jar was passed around for the voluntary gift of pennies. This fund is used by A.C.W.V. for extension work in countries where it is needed most.

Some discussion took place re a sale at the Hickson sale barns at Hoard's on December 26th. Mrs. E. C. Hay-Ellis and her group will make the plans.

4-H Club Work

Mrs. Gerald Brooks gave a resume of the girls' 4-H Club work. Sixteen girls are attending the class and one more meeting will be held in January. The theme is, "Working With Wool."

Mrs. Allen McDonnell gave a brief message re the service training group and their achievements on, "Window Treatment." The class has nine ladies enrolled.

Mrs. Ross Bush reported re the silver tray which is to be framed, in lieu of a Christmas exchange, when the members decided some time ago to donate their 50 cents to a special fund. Over $17 was realized at this meeting and a committee was appointed to do the buying of a special Christmas gift. They were: Mrs. Ernest Carr; Mrs. John Kane, and Mrs. Phillip Conley.

The next meeting will be held on Jan. 5th at the school kitchen, with Mrs. Gerald Brooks, as hostess. The meeting will be based on "Canadian Industries".

Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave four reports. She summarized the executive meeting of West Hastings district W. I. held in Belleville, when plans were made to commemorate the 60th anniversary of the district. It will be held April 20th at 6.30 p.m. in Wallbridge Orange Hall, and it is hoped that each of the seven branches will be represented.

Speaking on "Public Relations" she told of her opportunity to give a message on Institute work at the Federation of Agriculture banquet, and also gave an outline of her plans for a radio broadcast on December 6th.

In reporting for "The District Workshop," on the theme, "Eat to Live," it is hoped to have more material early in the new year and the February meeting is based on that subject.

Mrs. MacMullen, Friendship Link Secretary, sent a parcel of 108 corsages to Abbot's Leigh W.I. These were made by 16 ladies, and their names and a Christmas card were enclosed in the parcel. She displayed clippings that she had received from England and several newspapers. The papers were carried home by those who wished to read the English news.

Fine Programme

The programme was convened by Mrs. Allen McDonnell and centred on "Citizenship and Christmas." The motto was entitled, "Give your child good books," and this was most informative.

Carol singing of "O Come All Ye Faithful" and "Silent Night" was led by Mrs. Percy Utman.

The conveners read a story entitled "A Grand Old Place is Grandmother's House at Christmas." This was followed by a poem about "Santa Claus" for children.

A contest, "Christmas Dinner 1960," was of interest as well as a brain teaser. One group had all answers correct. A box of nuts was the prize which all enjoyed.

The convener closed her program with two poems, one of which was "God Bless You All."

The President voiced thanks and the guests were introduced, after which the meeting closed with "The Lord's Prayer" in unison.

A 1961 calendar received from Germany by the convener was displayed.

Treat For Children

Miss Mary Thomas recently donated $10.00 to be used for a special treat for the children and to assist with the Christmas menu. Thirteen small children received a large Santa Claus book and a red stocking filled with goodies. The children formed a line by the chesterfield and after they received their gifts they said in unison "thank you Mary."

The hostess and the citizenship and education group served sandwiches, relishes, cheese, fruit jellies, cookies, also tea and coffee.

Mrs. Ernest Carr voiced thanks for the hospitality, programme and refreshments and the group enjoyed a social half hour.

County Cheese Producers
Annual Meeting

The Hastings County Cheese Producers Association met in the Town Hall, Ivanhoe, on Monday afternoon, December 12th for their annual meeting with a good attendance present.

Mr. Gordon Bailey, Harold, was chairman for the afternoon and Mr. Philip Carr was secretary-treasurer. The auditor's report, given by Fred Beckett, was adopted.

Mr. George Pollard was present and was called upon to conduct the election of officers for 1961 as follows:
President — Gordon G. Bailey

1st Vice-President — George Wood
Secretary-Treasurer — Philip Carr
Auditor — Frederick Beckett
The following Township Directors were elected:

Voting delegates — President, Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer, Fred Heasman and Allan Ketcheson.

In assuming the chair Mr. Bailey stated he would do his best for the Association and he urged the members present to attend the meeting in Toronto early in January.

Sid MacDonald, Agricultural Representative, brought greetings to the Association. Mr. Roy Sills, President of the Hog Producers' Association, was present and talked on the cheese situation and the hog question.

Mr. Ernest Henderson, Dairy Inspector, brought a most helpful message on the care of milk. He stated that milking machines should be kept extra clean and the milk brought to the factory on time.

Mr. Henderson introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Baker, Director of Dairying. Mr. Baker said that he had always wanted to attend the Hastings County meeting, stating that much good came from the discussion groups. The speaker was thanked by George Wood and presented him with a cheese.

Hector Arnold explained how the price of cheese was arrived at and why some cheese was shipped back home from England for inspection. He urged the patrons to get their milk to the factory early as the cheese-makers are kept busy from six o'clock in the morning, seven days a week. He predicted a scarcity of cheese before spring.

On a motion of George Heasman and Vernon Harry, a resolution is to be sent to government asking for more money for cheese.

Mr. Moore and George Pollard, former inspectors, gave short messages.

A lunch of cheese and crackers was enjoyed. Door prizes of cheese were won by Ernest Reid and George Carlisle.

The singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

COOKIES FOR CHRISTMAS HOSPITALITY

Here are three delicious hospitality cookies fresh from the ovens of the Consumer Section in Ottawa. The butter in the Yule Logs and Canadian Palettes makes them smell good when baking and taste good when eaten. They are a real Christmas treat.

Yule Logs

1/2 cup butter
1-3 cup sugar
2 tablespoons water
1/2 to 1 teaspoon almond extract
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 egg white, slightly beaten
1/2 cup finely chopped, blanched almonds.

Cream butter, add sugar and cream well together. Stir in water and almond extract. Add flour gradually and combine thoroughly. Divide dough into 8 equal portions. On an unfloured board, roll each piece into an 8-inch roll about the thickness of a finger, then cut into 2-inch lengths. Brush rolls with slightly beaten egg white, then roll in chopped nuts. Place on ungreased cookie sheet and bake in a moderate oven (350 degs. F.) until nuts are lightly browned, 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 32 "logs".

Canadian Patties

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar

1 egg
1/2 to 1/3 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup finely chopped, blanched almonds
1 egg white, slightly beaten
Coloured sugar or small "shot" candies

Cream butter, add sugar and cream well together. Add egg and lemon rind, then combine thoroughly. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt, then stir in almonds. Add gradually to creamed mixture and combine thoroughly. Roll out on lightly floured board to about 1-8 inch thickness. Cut into rounds with floured 2 or 2 1/2 inch cookie cutter. Using a floured small thimble, cut a hole in each cookie to one side of centre. Brush cookies with beaten egg white, then sprinkle with coloured sugar or "shot." Using a broad spatula, place on greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) until light golden around the edges, 8 to 10 minutes. Watch carefully as these cookies brown readily. Makes about 4 dozen 2-inch cookies or 3 dozen 2 1/2-inch cookies.

Scandinavian

Almond Drops

2 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon almond extract
2 cups finely ground, blanched almonds
3 cup granulated sugar or 1 1/3 cups icing sugar
Candied cherries, orange peel, filberts or walnut halves
In medium-sized bowl beat egg whites slightly with fork. Add salt and almond extract. Combine ground almonds and sugar, then add gradually to egg whites and blend well. Drop small amounts of mixture from teaspoon onto well-greased cookie sheets. Decorate tops with candied cherries, orange peel or nuts, pressing lightly into mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350 degs. F.) until golden around the edges, 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 3 dozen "drops."

New Court House With Furnishings Will Cost $600,000 Council Is Told

The completed cost of the new Hastings County Courthouse now nearing its final stages of construction will be over $600,000, including cost of furnishings.

This was told to members of Hastings County Council as they concluded their final session of the year on Thursday at Shire Hall, where Council sessions have been held for the past century.

Bancroft Reeve Jack Brown, chairman of the special committee overseeing construction of the new courthouse building, told council that plan changes had boosted the original construction contract figure by over $11,000.

The original tender figure was $542,000 but over 300 plan changes, mostly minor, had boosted the figure to $553,885. This figure would be still upped some more before final completion.

Furniture and carpeting for the building will cost $45,211, venetian blinds another $4,000 and landscaping $1,200.

Construction costs for that portion of the building used for administration of justice will be shared by the County, the City of Belleville and the Town of Trenton, with the County to pay the entire cost of space used for County administration.

The official opening of the new building will be held January 15th, during the January session of County Council.

Will Lay Cornerstone

Opening ceremonies will include the laying of a cornerstone with other phases of the ceremonies to be held indoors. Attending will be members of parliament, members of the judiciary and county and city representatives.

In the evening of the opening day an open house will be held at which time the general public will be invited to inspect the new county building.

Reeve Carl Whitmore, of Deloro, expressed the appreciation of council, noting that few council members appreciated the amount of work, the number of headaches which the overseeing entailed.

Warden Earl Sager said new furniture for the new courthouse had cost more than was originally estimated.

"We could have cut the furniture cost, but if we had in future years we would have been justifiably criticized if we had settled for lower quality."

Finance committee chairman Douglas Spencer said much furniture in the present building would be used in the new structure after it was suitably refurnished. "If all new furniture had been used the cost for this item might have run as much as $80,000," he said.

Named Caretaker

Merritt Waite, 25-year-old Belleville man, was named caretaker at the new county courthouse with duties to commence at the first of the year. The position carries a salary of $4,700 annually, with $100 per month to be charged for an apartment to be occupied by the caretaker and his family.

Due to the work load involved in caretaking duties, council decided against hiring of an older man. Educational background and the applicant's mechanical ability were also factors in the choice of caretaker.

Mezei -- Demorest Nuptials

A very pretty double ring wedding ceremony was solemnized in the chapel of Holloway Street United Church, Belleville, on Saturday, November 19th, 1960, at 2:30 p.m. with the pastor, Rev. C. W. Coleman, B.A., officiating, when Charmaine Demorest, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Demorest, Lemoine St., Belleville, and Mr. Imre Mezei, of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Imre Mezei

St. of Hungary, were united in marriage.

The charming bride was gowned in a street-length dress of chartreuse green velvet with daffodil yellow accessories. She carried a nosegay of red roses and white chrysanthemums.

Miss Jean Horsten, of Belleville, friend of the bride, was maid of honour, wearing a street-length dress of navy blue crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses with silver ribbon.

Miss Rosalind Demorest, sister of the bride, was a demure little flower girl, wearing a dress of eggshell brocade satin and a dainty pink feathered hat. She carried a nosegay of baby white chrysanthemums and rosebuds.

The bridegroom was attended by his friend, Mr. Dean Trites, of Frankford.

The reception followed in the C.P.R. Recreation Hall, Trenton, where a buffet luncheon was served to sixty-five guests.

The bride's mother received her guests wearing a dress of royal blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. In the absence of the groom's mother, the bride's aunt, Mrs. Luke Glover, Trenton, assisted wearing a dress of turquoise blue taffeta with matching accessories.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated in white and silver and topped with a floral arrangement. The base was surrounded with white tulle and mauve chrysanthemums. Silver candelabra with white tapers completed the setting and the wedding flowers complemented the nuptial table.

Guests were in attendance from Toronto, Marmora, Stirling, Belleville, Wellman's, Frankford and Trenton.

Following a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Mezei will reside at 17 1/2 Sinclair St., Belleville, Ont.

Candidate For The Wardenship

Reeve Harleigh Hamilton of Sidney Township, Chairman of the 1960 Hastings County Roads and Bridges committee, has announced that he will seek the warden's chair next year.

Reeve Hamilton received acclamation as Township Reeve for 1961 and will be commencing his fifth term. He has been a member of his township council for ten years.

Mount Pleasant

Mission Band

Twenty-seven children and four adults were in attendance at the Church Hall for the Christmas meeting of the Mission Band. Various carols were sung and vocal solos were given by Betty McAdam, Joyce Cooney and Randy Scott. A reading was given by Jean Jeffs and a piano solo by Barbara Williams. Janet Fletcher gave a film, "When the Littlest Camel Knelt."

Mrs. Herbert Smith gave the Bible lesson, prayer and devotional story based on "Cain and Abel."

Glenn Spencer gathered the offering of $1.57 and Nancy David dedicated it. The leader, Mrs. Harry McAdam would like to have the mite boxes handed in to be credited on the year's givings.

Mrs. Stanley Williams and Miss Gail Scott assisted in serving the Christmas treats to the children.

THE DEMANDS

of modern society have been estimated to have increased 20 times since the year 1900. Today most of our occupation is at distances of 13 to 16 inches from our eyes, which, day in and day out, face a tremendous VISUAL workload... not intended by nature, in fact. Should you suspect discomfort at reading or 'on the job', there's a certain way to rid yourself of doubt!

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

PROTECT FRUIT TREES
AGAINST RABBIT DAMAGE

Rabbits have no place in an orchard, says Prof. C. B. Kelly, O.A.C. botanist.

Both cottontails and jacks (European hares) frequently ruin young fruit trees during the winter by stripping bark from the trunk and scaffold limbs and biting off small branches, he warns. Apples and pears are preferred, but rabbits may attack other trees also.

Sometimes rabbits are distracted from attacking trees by piles of fresh prunings, forkfuls of hay, or discarded cabbages. This is often a good place to hunt them, especially if these baits are not set far from the barn.

Wrapping small trees with sackcloth will protect the tops of young trees, he adds. Tie the wrapped tree securely to a stout stake or a steel fence post to prevent sleet or heavy snow breaking the tree over. Usually it is only possible to wrap a limited number of trees.

If the orchard is fenced against straying livestock a poisoned bait might be tried. Good quality alfalfa or clover hay tied in bundles poisoned with strychnine will do the job. Experiment to find the best place for the poisoned baits; tie them to branches or stakes — above the snow — but not out of reach.

Rabbit repellents also are used to protect trees; many new ones are being sold this year, says Professor Kelly. But keep in mind that repellents containing oil may seriously injure the bark. The rosin-denatured alcohol repellent is effective until there is deep crusty snow or other food is scarce. New commercial repellents are also being sold this year.

BUTTER SURPLUS
PROBLEM DISCUSSED

An agricultural economist recently suggested that Canada's current butter problem might be solved by the payment of a consumer subsidy of 10 cents per pound.

The proposal was made by Veronica McCormick, economist for the Dairy Farmers of Canada.

Miss McCormick said the subsidy would maintain the present prices received by producers but would lower the price paid by the consumers. She added that there is no assurance the subsidy would move surplus butter into the market.

"Since Canadians consume about 300 million pounds of butter a year, this proposed subsidy would cost the Canadian Government at least $30 million, plus administration charges.

"The figure may appear to be rather high, but if we could cut down our surplus to achieve the proper balance between production and consumption, our butter stocks probably would not again become a burdensome surplus for at least five years. And if our milk production did not increase too rapidly there might not be a butter surplus problem for a long time to come," the economist said.

Miss McCormick listed two immediate problems of the butter industry — a steady decrease in consumption and a build-up of surplus butter stocks.

Canadian consumers are cutting down on the use of butter at the rate of about one million pounds per month. On the other hand, margarine consumption in the first eight months of this year increased by 11 percent over the corresponding period of 1959, she reported.

She said that decreased consumption of butter in Canada has resulted in the loss of a market for 57 million pounds in the last four years. She indicated that the decrease is due to the relatively lower cost of margarine, new fads about weight control, concern about total fat in the diet and improved quality control by manufacturers of margarine.

The economist noted that there is no proof of a relationship between blood cholesterol levels and heart diseases. Despite the lack of such proof, much advertising is aimed at wooing consumers away from butter, she added.

Dr. J. E. Monagle, director of Nutrition, Canada Department of National Health and Welfare, recently recommended moderation in the restriction of fat from the diet. And Dr. E. W. McHenry, professor of nutrition at the University of Toronto's School of Hygiene, has said that he sees no reason for advising Canadians to either reduce or increase their intake of fat," Miss McCormick said.

The speaker stressed the need for research "as a means of finding answers" to dairy problems.

"As far as I am aware, there is no farm organization contributing to dairy research at present," she said. "We should be finding some of the answers ourselves and not leaving everything to government.

"There is a need for research into new dairy products, spreadability and flavours in butter, consumer preferences, the nutritive value of butter and milk protein — to name just a few examples. The possibilities in this field are unlimited," she said.

THE BIBLE TODAY

The Indonesian Government has passed a decree against the importation of foreign manufactured goods in an effort to encourage local industrial development. For a period of two years, however, they have given a dispensation to the Indonesian Bible Society to import Scriptures. The National Bible Society of Scotland has allocated the sum of $5,000.00 — $2,500.00 in 1960 and $2,500.00 in 1961 to the Indonesian Bible Society for the import of Scriptures while there is yet time.

A New Testament in Murat is being published by the National Scottish Bible Society for use in Borneo. This is the language of one of the hill tribes living in the forests of the central Highlands of the island, partly in Indonesian Borneo and partly in Sarawak. This is the first book to be published in Murat and has been made possible by the contribution of approximately $3,750.00 by friends of the Otago and Southland Bible Society. This subsidy enables the Society to sell this New Testament at a price the people are able to pay.

Further publications in other tribal languages, such as Tagal will be produced.

Thieves Blamed For Plant Fire At Belleville

Safecrackers using an acetylene torch are blamed for the fire early Saturday which destroyed the Foley Foundry and Machine Co. Ltd. plant, one of the city's oldest industries. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

Alas For The Christmas Fire

Very soon, people will be getting burned up over Christmas — literally, the way we Canadians do every year at this season. In each happy home, the whole family will soon eagerly get to work providing all the hazards necessary for a successful, sure-fire Christmas. Fire must have kindling, so we'll make sure there's a dried-out tree in the living room, surrounded by plenty of tissue wrapped gifts, crepe paper decorations, and lots of worn-out electric tree lights, candles, and pennies in the fuse-box.

Of course Fire Departments, who are notorious for wanting to spoil everybody's fun, will issue warnings about putting your tree in water, keeping lights in good condition, and not overloading circuits. Stores will advertise fire-retardant gift wrapping and decorating paper, along with the nice quick-burning kind, and offer for sale CSA approved Christmas lights which discourage electrical fires. But don't worry, you can still have a fire this Christmas. Just ignore all these spoilsports. If you want to eliminate the element of chance, use candles right on the tree instead of bulbs. You can also try using indoor lights outside, if you're aiming for the most spectacular fire in the neighbourhood. Besides, this trick is doubly good because if it doesn't start a fire there's a good chance it can electrocute someone.

Speaking of electrocution, you may not have heard of the latest wet blanket in this field. A company has actually manufactured a safety plug lock to fasten your electrical cords securely to the outlet. Just think of the hundreds of fun-loving children who won't be able to pull the plug out of the wall and get shocks or burns any more. It does seem a shame.

Take it from the Ontario Safety League, a fire at Christmas must be carefully planned in advance. So many safety devices are appearing on the market these days, we may live to see the sad day when Christmas fires have become obsolete.

Mrs. Don Stewart
Was Hostess To Rylstone W.I.

Mrs. Don Stewart was hostess to the Rylstone Women's Institute on Thursday afternoon, December 8th at the Sunday School room of Zion Church, when there was an attendance of 16 ladies and 2 children.

It was the regular annual Christmas meeting and all members were asked to contribute to the programme. Mrs. Don Kerr, President, was in the chair and dealt with the business of the month; opening with the Institute Ode and Lord's Prayer. Roll call was answered by "What I'd like to find in my stocking". Minutes and correspondence were read by the Secretary.

Mrs. Ernest Irwin introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Gordon Whitehorse, who delighted all with his Christmas story of a western mining town and his personal message. Mrs. Percy Reid conveyed the thanks of the Institute for the very interesting talk.

Convenor for the balance of the programme was Mrs. Clara Wildman.

A reading, "Recipe for a Merry Christmas," was given by Mrs. Percy Reid; followed by a recitation, "Little Miss Muffett," by little Brenda Watson; Christmas carols, with Mrs. Ellis Jones at the piano; reading, "After Dishes," by Miss Violet Wright; demonstration on making an octopus pin cushion, by Mrs. Carl Reid; reading, "Christmas Day," by Mrs. Jim Gray; current events, by Mrs. Ernest Irwin; Life Saver game, conducted by Mrs. Clara Wildman. The meeting closed with the Institute Creed and the National Anthem.

Names were drawn for the Christmas exchange and gifts were distributed. A small gift was presented to Rev. Whitehorse at this time, also in appreciation for his talk.

Card tables were drawn together in a long family style table and a lunch of sandwiches, pickles and Christmas cookies was enjoyed. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Percy Reid and Mrs. Jim Gray. The surplus cookies were sold.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

WHO IS THE GIFT GIVER?

I suppose everyone has heard the story of the young newlyweds who received in their mail a couple of tickets to a wonderful Broadway show. They didn't know who on earth had sent them, but they were grateful, and off to the show they went. When they returned home, all their valuable wedding gifts were gone, and there was a terse note: "Now you know who gave you the tickets."

All anonymous gifts need not be suspect; but often, in this life, when someone promises to give us something for nothing, you can bet they are out to touch our pocket books for a good deal more than the "something" they give to us.

The great salesman of these "free" gimmicks these days, is government itself. In the provinces, we are always a bit confused about who paid the bill — the Federal Government or the Provincial — for this or that new edifice, bridge, road, or service. The suggestion is often made that we paid very little, "because the big share came out of Ottawa."

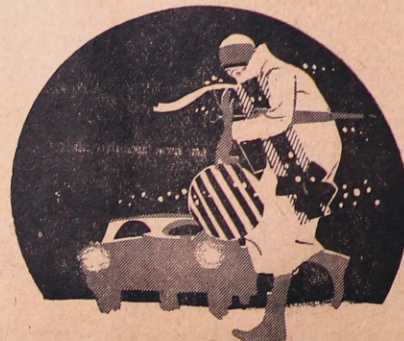

We are not as dumb as the politicians think we are. Most of us know that whether the money comes from Ottawa or our own provincial capital, we pay for it. If we didn't always know it, we are now finding it out as prices continue to rise while profits decline. A large portion of the price of many items we must buy consists of taxes to pay for "free" gifts governments showered on us.

So expensive are these "gifts" that a man can no longer, by living a simple life and taking care of his health and money, achieve the degree of independence he would like. One must pay for this and that service whether one wants it or not. We are denied the right to a simple, frugal life, because the government has made society what they call "progressive" and what I call expensive.

For example, I do not waste the government to spend a fortune bringing me television extravaganzas in which Canadian singers bellow torch songs. I do not desire to have poets lugging Canada Council grants across the country, writing poems that seldom compare to the good ones they wrote when on their own. I do not care to have the Queen's Printer turning out reams of pamphlets of interest to one percent of the population — with my money. These and a host of other expenses the government forces me to indulge in.

The next politician who promises me anything "free" can be sure of one thing — I'll go out and vote against him!

the best way to say
"Merry Christmas"

Sometimes money is the only logical gift for three or four of the more "difficult" names on your gift list... but to some of us cold cash and Christmas-giving just don't seem to go together. Well, the B of M has the way to take the chill off cold cash and make your gift of money a warm, personal one, fully in keeping with the spirit of the season.

Look over the B of M's three ways to make your gift of money arrive to the tune of "Jinglebells".

1. STUDENTS' AND BABIES' PASSBOOKS make a delightful extra for some youngsters on your list. Your gift of money is entered in a special passbook and enclosed in a Christmas cover guaranteed to make young eyes pop with glee.

2. MONEY ORDERS purchased for Christmas-giving come in gaily-decorated envelopes or folders that clearly spell out your Yuletide wish. Ideal for those "hard-to-buy-for" people on your out-of-town gift list.

3. SPECIAL CHRISTMAS CHEQUES are available in two colourful holiday designs — one for personal and one for business bonus-giving. They are "gift-wrapped" in a bright cover that glows with the spirit of the season.

Ivanhoe

In the midst of preparations for the coming festive season, a large number of friends and neighbours paused to pay their last respects to a well-loved citizen, Mrs. James Haggerty, whose death occurred in a Montreal nursing home, Wednesday, December 21st.

Mrs. Haggerty was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, West Huntingdon. She was faithful in attendance and capably filled offices in the W.M.S. and Sunday School and a life member of the W.M.S. and a valued member of the choir. Yet in her eyes no task was too lowly to perform in the work of the church. She was a devoted wife and mother.

It could truly be said of her "she looked well to the ways of her household."

The Haggerty homestead on the 4th Line was always open to church and community groups. She was a past president of Ivanhoe W.I.

Although Mrs. Haggerty has not resided in this district for a number of years, she will be long remembered.

St. John's Evening Guild

St. John's Evening Guild met at the Rectory on December 5th for the annual Christmas meeting. The Rector, Rev. R. Gale, opened the meeting with prayer. Owing to the absence of the President, Mrs. Hosking directed the meeting.

The Guild members were thanked for all they had done to make 1960 such a successful year by the Rector on behalf of the Wardens and himself. Mrs. Geo. Noble and Mrs. E. Hosking brought in the new slate of officers for the coming year as follows:

President, Mrs. E. Carr; Vice-President, Mrs. Warsnop; Secretary, Mrs. G. Morrow; Treasurer, Mrs. C. Bosiak; Card and Gift Secretary, Mrs. D. Ackers.

It was announced that the service Christmas Eve would commence at 11.00 with carols, followed by Communion with an open altar.

The meeting closed with prayer and Mrs. Houchin conducted an amusing contest which was enjoyed by all.

Dainty refreshments brought the evening to a close and Mrs. Webber expressed a vote of thanks to the Rector and co-hostesses Mrs. Houchin and Mrs. Hosking.

Mt. Pleasant W.M.S.

Mrs. Donald Knight was hostess for the December meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society with seventeen members and nine visitors in attendance. The rooms were decorated with pine cones, greenery and artificial poinsettias. Mrs. Burton Sharpe was pianist.

The President, Mrs. John Mulheron, opened with a Christmas message and all sang "Hark the Herald Angels Sing."

Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave her report and read part of a letter and we quote: "Our Missionary friend in Haiti is running a canteen to feed the hungry people one meal per day. Over five hundred people are fed daily and some of them walk as far as four miles to get that meal." The Treasurer reported $75.00 on hand.

Mrs. Douglas Campbell gave a Stewardship message, "Do we have God's name on our shopping list?" and a poem "I Count My Blessings."

Mrs. W. G. Fletcher, Citizenship Secretary, read an editorial from the November Missionary Monthly which stressed that each congregation wait for suggestions and well-considered plans and not try to "beat the gun" in the new woman's organization which is to take effect January 1962.

The scrapbook on Africa, compiled by Mrs. Herbert Smith, will be given to a special group in January. She displayed a picture of Mr. Harvey Putman and two children of Africa. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Burton Sharpe when the officers will be installed and the 1960 reports will be given.

Mrs. Will Jeffs, convener of the nominating committee, read the report and Rev. W. G. Fletcher conducted the election. There are very few changes as 1961 will be the last year for the Woman's Missionary Society to be on the list of church organizations.

The group sang "While Shepherds Watched." Mrs. Percy MacMullen offered prayer for Miss Blanche Gerhard, R.N., an associate worker in the Drumheller Valley, Newcastle, Alta. Miss Kathryn Sharpe gathered the offering which the pastor dedicated.

Eggleton W.M.S. And W.A.

The December meeting of Eggleton W.M.S. and W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Bruce Stapley on Thursday afternoon with 19 adults and one child in attendance.

Mrs. Stapley presided over a programme, which she and Mrs. Harry Clarke had prepared and opened the meeting by reading a beautiful poem in keeping with the theme on Christmas. The hymn, "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks By Night" was sung, with Miss Joyce Stapley as pianist, followed with prayer by Mr. Dyson. The Scripture Lesson, Luke 2: 1-19, was read by Mrs. W. Harlow, with the commentary on the lesson being given by Mr. Dyson.

All enjoyed the solo, "Christmas Night," sung by Mrs. Harold West, Stirling, with Mrs. B. Stapley playing her accompaniment. An interesting reading, "Christmas in China" was read by Mrs. Wm. McMullen. The offering was taken up and dedicated with prayer by Mrs. Stapley. Two more mite-boxes were handed in.

Mrs. Stapley welcomed the visitors, thanked the soloist and expressed best wishes to the 1961 President, Mrs. Keith Johnson.

Mrs. Maurice Clancy reported $46.50 raised by the Mission Band. Mrs. Murney Kirkey, Baby Band Leader, reported $8.09.

The W.M.S. members were asked to save their used stamps and give them to any Mission Band Member.

The president requested that the Secretaries meet together to fill out the annual reports.

The W.A. President, Mrs. Wm. McMullen, presided for the business period. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Chambers, with Mrs. Maurice Clancy preparing the programme.

Mrs. McMullen thanked all for their co-operation during the year and also expressed thanks to Mrs. Stapley for the use of her home.

A reading, "Roadside Window" was given by Mrs. Clancy. Mrs. H. West rendered another solo, "How Great Thou Art" and asked all present to join in the chorus. Another reading, "That God Is Love," taken from the Missionary Monthly, was given by Mrs. B. Stapley. The meeting was dismissed by Mr. Dyson.

Two groups were formed and a skit was presented, based on words found in Matthew 12: 10-13.

A social half hour was enjoyed with an exchange of Christmas gifts and refreshments served by the hostesses.

Salem W.A.

Salem W.A. held their Christmas meeting in the church hall on Thursday evening. The hall was decorated with Christmas wreaths and a prettily lighted Christmas tree. There was a splendid attendance of 16 members and 15 visitors.

Mrs. Mel Wickens, President, opened the meeting with an appropriate poem, theme song and prayer. Roll call was answered with the exchange of gifts.

Items of business were discussed. Mrs. Tom Clements presented the Treasurer's report for Mrs. Lorne Hagerman, who was unable to be present, which showed a substantial balance. Mrs. Ern Broadworth reported for the visiting committee and Mrs. Ivan Saries reported for the card committee and missionary appointment.

Several "thank you" notes were acknowledged and the secretary was asked to send a note of appreciation to Mr. B. Belshaw, who so generously donated a built-in sink in the hall. It was voted that the balance of the decoration of the church hall be paid and $25.00 be given to the M.E.M. Fund; also $15.00 to the W.M.S.

1961 Officers

Mrs. Tom Clements presented the slate of officers for 1961 as follows: President — Mrs. Bert Heagle Vice-President — Mrs. Everett Sine Secretary — Mrs. Stan Thompson Treasurer — Mrs. Lorne Hagerman Card Convener — Mrs. Orval Jackson

Missionary Secretary — Mrs. Bert Sine

Pianist — Mrs. Frank McGee Sales Conveners — Mrs. Ern Broadworth and Mrs. Harold Holden Flower Committee — Mrs. Tom Clements and Mrs. Mel Wickens

Mrs. Tom Clements presided over the Christmas programme. A carol was sung, followed by the Scripture Lesson, read by Mrs. Vene Hagerman. The explanation was given by Mrs. Albert Twiddy. Mrs. Arnold Ray led in prayer. Readings were given by Mrs. Orval Jackson and Mrs. Everett Sine.

Mrs. Murney Johnston very capably presented the topic on the modern version of the Christmas Spirit. The offering was received and Mrs. Harold Holden expressed thanks to the hostess, Mrs. Arnold Ray, and all who helped with the programme. She also moved a vote of thanks to the retiring President and some of the officers. A Christmas carol was sung and the benediction pronounced. The hostess and her assistants served a bountiful lunch, topped off with light and dark Christmas cake.

and hockey on Monday of this week.
Considerable renovating has been completed since last season, with new sideboards, new penalty box and repairs to the standing room area. The

and the arena presents a very fine appearance. The work has been done by members of the Legion and others

the commendation of all those who enjoy the privileges of the arena. G.
Finkle is again the caretaker and skaters are assured of a fine sheet of ice so long as weather permits.

THE DEMANDS

of modern society have been estimated to have increased 20 times since the year 1900. Today most of our occupation is at distances of 13 to 16 inches from our eyes, which, day in and day out, face a tremendous VISUAL work-load... not intended by nature, in fact. Should you suspect discomfort at reading or 'on the job', there's a certain way to rid yourself of doubt!

Entered Into Rest

WILLIAM ANDREW CRANSTON

In failing health for some time, William Andrew Cranston, 26 Everett St., Belleville, died Christmas Day at the Shepherd Nursing Home. He was in his 55th year.

Mr. Cranston was born in Fermanagh County, Ireland, in the village of Enniskillen. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Cranston.

He came to Canada at an early age and immediately associated himself with farming in the Tweed district where he resided for some 35 to 40 years.

Mr. Cranston owned a fine farm on the eighth concession of Thurlow and became known as one of the more successful farmers of the district.

He was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends and greatly respected in the agricultural areas in which he worked and moved.

During the past fifteen years Mr. Cranston had been engaged in the cattle and hog shipping business.

He was a member of Victoria Ave. Baptist Church, Belleville, and was a life member of Tweed Lodge No. 239, A.F. & A.M. He was twice married, his first wife being Helena Hicks, who died in 1934.

He is survived by his wife, the widow of the late Thomas Lloyd; one son, Richard John Cranston, of Holloway; three daughters, Mrs. Milton (Marjory) Snider, Wellington; Mrs. Earl (Beatrice) Snider, of Holloway, and Mrs. (Ruth) Read, of Belleville R.R. 5, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Milton Robson, Belleville.

Also surviving are a brother, Robert Cranston, of Harold, and a sister, Mrs. Frank (Annie) Doxtator, of Shannonville. There are 18 grandchildren and eleven great grandchildren.

The funeral service was held on Wednesday afternoon at the chapel of the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Home, 38 Everett Street, Belleville. Rev. Gordon Woodcock officiated.

Interment in Victoria Cemetery, Tweed.

Safety sign: "Watch out for school children... especially if they're driving."

THE BIBLE TODAY

A city-wide Scripture distribution campaign lasting about a week took place in Girardot, Columbia, a city on the Magdalena River, about 90 miles from Bogotá with a population of some 45,000.

Organized by the Rev. A. Porras, Bible Society Associate Secretary in Columbia and a graduate of the Pentecost Institute, the campaign coincided with the celebration of the second anniversary of the Presbyterian Church in the city.

The Rev. K. Bystrom, Bible Society Secretary for Venezuela and Columbia reported that a total of 4,426 Scriptures were distributed. 58 volunteer groups participated in this effort and prayer groups supported the campaign. Scriptures were read in every home visited and where Scriptures were not purchased a Gospel Booklet was presented to the family.

A group of 12 to 15 children offered to help, so Mr. Bystrom took them to a poorer section of the city where each child was supplied with Gospels and were sent to distribute them free on a city block.

So the good seed of the Word of God was sown in Girardot.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

THE SOCIAL WORKER

This morning I chatted with an elderly woman who has been doing social work all her life. She is one of the finest persons I have ever met, and I think she told me something that is of great value to everyone.

"Just about every person wanting help," she said, "would sit across from me and tell me of this problem or that one — unpaid rent, unsatisfactory job, illness, all sorts of immediate things to worry about.

"I used to listen to it all, but in the back of my mind I knew that none of those things was the key problem. I knew in my own heart that the person had a bigger trouble somewhere inside, and that if he or she would face it and solve it, the other things would look after themselves — even the health problem, believe it or not."

She went on to say that she had once heard William Faulkner talking to fellow authors. He told them, she recalled, that "the problem of the human heart in conflict with itself alone can make good writing because only that is worth writing about, worth the agony and the sweat."

She said that this struck her as being so very true. "I could have paid the rent for some of these unfortunate," she told me, "or even provided a better job, or obtained medical advice for them. But the thing I knew I had to do if my help was to be of any lasting value was to get across to them the fact that their first and most vital problem was within themselves. They needed to win some sort of inner fight in order to be real men or women with character and strength. Otherwise, all their days and years would go by with others having to straighten this or that out for them. But if they could win the inner struggle, it would not be too long before they would be standing on their own feet, helping others instead of needing help."

I have repeated what this social worker said as best I can. She is a woman who faced great personal problems herself and the fact that she licked them is apparent in her very carriage, the shine in her eyes, the assurance in her voice. She has made her own living and helped many others for a great part of her more than seventy years. She earns a good income today, and recently won a valuable award for her services in competition with hundreds of younger women.

We all have problems, no doubt, and they often seem to loom large. But each of us, if the inner struggle is won, can take the worst of the world can offer and transform it into something fine.

Never use baking soda to prevent curdling in cream soups, since it destroys the valuable vitamins, ascorbic acid and thiamine provided by the vegetables and milk, advises the Food and Nutrition Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

As a finishing touch to a delicious hot soup, dress up the individual servings with effective garnishes. Curry or paprika croutons are attractive garnishes which can be prepared from simple ingredients, advises the Food and Nutrition Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

A few croutons floating on any cream soup are as good tasting as they are good looking.

MRS. DAVID C. KETCHESON

Following a brief illness, Mrs. Norma Elizabeth Ketcheson, R.R. 1, Halloway, died in Belleville General Hospital on Thursday afternoon. She was born in Sidney Township 64 years ago, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Newton Bird and had resided near Halloway for the past 41 years. She previously resided in Sidney and in both communities she was held in high regard by a wide circle of friends.

Mrs. Ketcheson was a member of Bridge Street United Church and was active in the Woman's Missionary Society, being a life member of the Society. She was also active in the Woman's Auxiliary of the church. She was a woman of kindly disposition, an excellent neighbour and firm friend, who took an active part in all community projects.

Surviving are her husband, David Clifford Ketcheson; one daughter, Mrs. Donald (Irene) Bateman, of Tweed; four brothers, Laurison Bird, Belleville; James E. Bird, Penoka, Alta.; Lewis Bird, of Peterborough; Kenneth Bird, Belleville; and two sisters, Mrs. Cecil (Isobel) Ketcheson, Halloway, and Mrs. George (Edith) Stanton, Belleville. A brother, Clement Bird, was killed in action in the First World War.

The funeral service was held in the chapel of the John R. Bush Funeral Home, Belleville, on Saturday afternoon, December 17th. Rev. H. M. Davis officiated.

Interment Zion Hill Cemetery.

One Way To Carve A Turkey

In days gone by, carving was an art in itself and a delight to behold. The master of the household had plenty of practice throughout the year in big roasts and big birds. Modern trends toward smaller fowl and roasts have resulted in the Christmas turkey being the biggest carving job today, however. Due to this lack of experience, carving a large bird can be a mortifying experience instead of a gratifying one. The following advice offered by Professor Henry Orr of the O.A.C. Poultry Department, can make carving enjoyable and the slices inviting.

First, with the bird on its back, neck end away from you, remove the right leg (thigh or second joint, and drumstick). Hold the drumstick firmly with the finger of the left hand, and pull gently away from the turkey body. At the same time cut through the skin between thigh and body. Continue as follows.

Press the leg away from body with the flat side of the knife. Then, cut through joint joining leg to backbone and skin on back. If the "oyster", a choice oyster-shaped piece lying in the spoon-shaped section of the back, was not removed with the thigh, remove it at this point. Hold leg on service plate with drumstick at a convenient angle to plate. Separate drumstick and thigh by cutting down through the joint to the plate.

To slice the drumstick meat hold the drumstick at 45 degrees to the plate and cut down, turning the drumstick to get uniform slices.

To slice the thigh, hold it firmly on the plate with a fork. Cut slices of meat parallel to the bone.

Now for the white meat. Cut into the white meat parallel to the wing. Make a bone-deep cut into the breast parallel to and as close to the wing as possible.

Slice white meat. Beginning at the right front, starting half-way up the breast, cut thin slices of white meat down to the cut made parallel to the wing. The fork is pressed into the left breast to hold the bird steady. The slices will fall away from the turkey as they are cut to this line. Continue carving until enough meat has been carved for first servings.

To remove individual servings of stuffing, cut an opening into the side of the turkey where the leg has been removed.

Steel Leader Stresses "Buy Canada" Theme

"If the Federal Government and the governments of the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and all their agencies, and the municipal governments within our two great industrial provinces, would adopt forthwith a policy of "Buy Canadian", many of our current economic problems would be on their way to solution," Stuart Armour, Economic Adviser, The Steel Company of Canada, Limited, said at Niagara Falls, Ont., recently.

Speaking before the Canadian Club of that city, Mr. Armour expressed deep concern about the lack of real action on the part of government to overcome the plight of secondary industry in Canada which has accounted to a large extent for existing unemployment. The Stelco economist also questioned the value of the recently announced government policies aimed at increasing export business for Canadian manufacturers.

"If only one quarter the zeal and energy now being expended by government leaders in attempting to make our manufacturing industry export oriented were devoted to improving our domestic market, many of our troubles would quickly diminish," Mr. Armour said.

The Stelco economist stated that other countries when confronted with unfavourable economic conditions tend to act boldly in their own best interests. They make no apology for this, and because they do not care what other countries may think they are usually applauded for their actions," he said.

"But in Canada we never seem to act forthrightly in our own interests because we fear criticism from other countries."

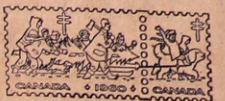

"There can be no doubt, as even the Governor of the Bank of Canada has broadly hinted, that the current plight of secondary industry constitutes a real danger to Canada."

"Yet the various governments which have spoken lately through throne speeches evidently intend to attempt only to palliate the existing situation by setting up more elaborate governmental machinery. That new machinery, and the planning it will evolve, are bound to cost more money, and hence require either higher taxes or more recourse to deficit financing, either or both of which will add to inflationary pressures," Mr. Armour stated.

In still another allusion to the "Buy Canadian" theme Mr. Armour said: "Canadians cheerfully accept the high wages paid by manufacturers but tend to spend those wages — upon which their standard of living so largely depends — upon manufactured goods from Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the United States and other countries."

He contended that Canadians have every right to spend their money where they like, but they cannot hope to have Full Employment or any near approach to it if Canadian manufacturing is not busy.

CANADA'S OLDEST BANKING SITE

is the location of the Bank of Montreal's new head-office building in Montreal, opened on Saturday, December 3rd by Quebec Premier Jean Lesage. The 17-storey B of M building stands on the site of the bank's first head-office building, opened in 1819 as the first building in Canada especially designed for banking purposes, less than two years after the founding of the bank — Canada's first — in November, 1817. Head-office departments of the B of M, formerly housed in an assortment of accommodations throughout Montreal's financial district, are brought together in the new building, seen here adjoining the familiar domed structure of the bank's Montreal main branch. Capable of accommodating some 2,000 men and women, the $10,000,000 building has Canada's largest and strongest vault facilities. With an area of some 6,800 square feet, the vaults have two doors each weighing 33 tons, which are balanced so precisely they can be swung by a child. The building has a floor area of some 250,000 square feet.
